OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THERE IS NO CITY Council election in Campbell this year.

We just threw that in as sort of a public service to offset some of the confusion that might have arisen over some candidates' signs that have made their appearance in town in recent weeks.

San Jose is having a council election. Apparently some of the candidates who are a trifle hazy about just where San Jose begins and ends have stuck their signs up in this town.

Most of the signs we have seen don't specify that the election is for the San Jose City Council.

Hence the confusion among some of the local residents.

In fact we were berated by one party for not publicizing the fact that there was a Campbell city council election coming up.

Even when we explained that it was a San Jose and not a Campbell election, we are not sure that we convinced him that we were not a part of a great conspiracy in keeping something from the public.

Having these San Jose signs stuck up in this community is not new. It happens almost every time there is a San Jose election.

But we don't think there are as many this year as there have been in other years.

Maybe the San Jose council candidates are becoming better informed about their city.

There seems to be a lot to be informed about in that city without overlapping into Campbell.

BUT THERE IS AN ELECtion (or elections) coming up on April 15 which does involve this community.

Voters in the various school districts will go to the polls that day to elect trustees.

In all the school districts, elementary, high school and junior college, in this immediate area the incumbents are facing challengers.

Yet there really are no basic issues involved in any of the districts in which clear-cut battle lines can be drawn.

It is a sort of situation in which those who are running against the incumbents feel that they can do a better job. Period.

But apparently the challengers are not pinpointing just where.

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE that we could use more of.

Some of our friends, to use the term loosely, will call that the understatement of the year.

Admittedly we have a short fuse and, unfortunately, we do "blow" from time to time.

Most of the time when covering a meeting we make a valiant attempt to be objective and remain an inconspicuous reporter.

But when one has as much at stake in this community as we have, it is sometimes difficult to retain our reportorial immunity without rebelling vocally.

As was the case at the Planning Commission meeting the other night when we sounded off.

We maintain that the overall goals of the city should not be clouded by nit-picking over protocol details.

That was what caused our fuse to go off in that instance.

SPEAKING OF PAtience, we have long admired the way the residents who live on the streets adjacent to the college suffer in silence (most of the time) from the parking situation that exists on those streets because of the college.

Apparently the residents have resigned themselves to their fate, i.e., there will be no open spaces in front of their homes while college is in ses-

Park bonds total $625,000

June election to decide vital issue of community's future

Voters within the city limits of Campbell on June 10 are to decide the destiny of this city's future park program as a result of the City Council's action Monday night. At stake will be a central community park and eight neighborhood parks.

On the ballot will be a $625,000 bond proposal which will allow for the acquisition of land adjacent to the present city-owned Rincon Park and for the planning and development.

In a novel approach to park projects involving schools, the bond issue will include $80,000 that will be earmarked for the development of eight neighborhood parks on school grounds. These funds are to be used jointly with contributions from school district and school organizations.

The scope of the bond issue was developed from a series of study sessions involving citizen groups, councilmen and city commission members.

The development Monday was another act in the fast-moving civic drama which began in January when a proposed 288-unit apartment complex adjacent to the seven-acre Rincon Park and a six-acre school district parcel, won the approval of the Planning Commission.

The Parks and Recreation Commission, concerned because the proposed complex would infringe on this city's limited open space and cut off the six-acre school district parcel from the present Rincon Park, appealed the ruling.

Subsequently after a series of meetings and conferences, the owners of the property, Don Hiatt and Fred Zolezzi, agreed to sell the 8.5 acre parcel to the city.

The developers, Guild West, also agreed to withdraw from the scene (for $2,000) until the electorate could decide that they were willing to pick up the tab for the park land.

Thus it was necessary to schedule the bond issue as soon as possible because the agreement with the owners specifies that the City will pay $2,000 per month (taxes and interest) to Hiatt and Zolezzi until the bond election.

As presented by City Manager Bob Stephens and approved by the City Council on Monday night, the bond issue breakdown would be:

Land acquisition - Hiatt-Zolezzi parcel.....$301,000

Land acquisition, county parcel, south of Rincon Ave. (This piece "fills" out the park and is available to the city... at a price.).....$31,000

Capital improvements to eight elementary schools in City of Campbell at $10,000 each $80,000

Master planning and development costs, Rincon Community Park.....$200,000

Bond election and costs..... $13,000

TOTAL $625,000

In arriving at the development costs, City Manager Stephens as directed at the first

Civic center "grows"

Campbell's new civic center in recent weeks definitely has more than a gleam in the eye of City Manager Bob Stephens when four houses on First St. recently purchased by the City were demolished and removed. (Stephens points the way to the city hall in the lower picture.)

On Monday night, acting on the recommendation of the city manager, the Council approved the expansion of the civic site toward Harrison, which would necessitate the purchase of additional property on Harrison. (Stephens points out these parcels in the photos above.)

Under the new plan, the library would be located on a 1.5 acre site, bounded by Central, Harrison and the north loop street between Central and Harrison. The city hall would be on a 2.5 acre parcel bounded by First, Grant, Central and the proposed north loop street between Campbell and First, making a total civic center site of four acres.

The Council also approved a plan that would design the lower floor of the new city hall as a civil defense shelter which possibly would mean federal financial assistance could be obtained.

In addition, the Council directed the city staff to initiate the necessary engineering and planning to establish official plan lines for the north loop street and set public hearings for them.

As soon as possible, the north loop street will be submitted to the State for approval as part of the city's select street system.

Gilman-Dillon-Railway

Council acts to upgrade area through Redevelopment Agency

What could be the most significant step yet taken in the long, hard road to upgrade the Gilman-Dillon-Rai lway area in Campbell was taken by the City Council on Monday night.

The city staff was directed to prepare an ordinance that would establish the need for a Redevelopment Agency, the first move to get federal involvement for an in-depth study of the area (and the downtown section).

The funds for the project come from the "Neighborhood Planning Program" that has been set up by the federal government to assist in upgrading substandard areas.

City officials, after considerable study, came to the conclusion that this relatively new federal aid program was the best tool to use in attempting to find the long-sought for answer to how the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area should be developed.

Last week the City Council reluctantly adopted an interim zoning freeze for one year for the area. Under the freeze, no building can take place in the area without a special variance.

Prior to the adoption of the year-long freeze, a 90-day interim zoning had been in effect in the area. City Attorney Joe Bonacina ruled that at the end of the 90 days, either the interim zoning had to be extended for a year or the zoning would revert to the M-1-S (light industrial) that was in effect previously.

The area, under the 701 recommendation, has been specified for multiple housing (R-3-S). But the problem is complicated because over the years a considerable amount of light industrial construction has taken place.

The action taken by the City Council Monday night sets the stage for obtaining a definite guideline by professionals for the area. Under the proposed ordinance, the City Council would act initially as the Redevelopment Agency.

No more "topless"

Campbell officially became a no "topless" city on Monday night.

Without preliminary fanfare, the City Council Monday unanimously adopted an urgency ordinance that outlawed topless waitresses and entertainers in any establishment within the city limits.

At the present time, there are no "topless joints" operating in Campbell.

The Council's action Monday sees to it that there are not going to be any either.

The ordinance drafted by City Attorney Joe Bonacina (which went into effect Monday under the urgency clause) does not specify topless in the conditions.

It is "nudeness" and "semi-nudeness". But the particulars are spelled out.

JayCees make award Saturday

Five young men of the community have been nominated for the "Distinguished Service Award" that is presented annually by the Campbell JayCees, according to Nozer Haladwala, vice-president and chairman of the award event.

The award will be made this Saturday, March 29, at a dinner at The Little New Yorker, 1400 Martin Ave., Santa Clara.

A panel of three unnamed judges will announce the winner at the dinner. It will go to the young man or woman (between 21-35) who, in the opinion of the judges, has shown outstanding leadership qualities in the community during 1968.

Nominees must either work or reside in Campbell to be eligible for the award. Bob Dalzell, now residing in Santa Maria, was the winner last year when the award was presented for the first time by the Campbell JayCees.

Dr. David Barry, executive vice-president, San Jose State College, will be the principal speaker. Pat Walsh will be the master of ceremonies. The dinner is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. preceded by a no-host cocktail hour.

Retiring superintendent

Civic dinner on May 2 to honor Larry Hill

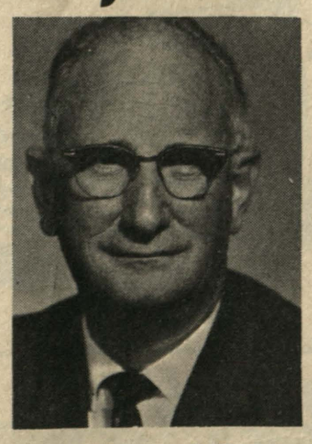
A civic dinner is scheduled at Lou's Village on Friday, May 2 at 6:30 p.m. to honor Laurance (Larry) J. Hill, retiring superintendent of the Campbell Union High School District, it was announced this week.

Hill is retiring after 23 years in the superintendency of the district and 37 years of service in the field of education.

A native of San Jose, Hill attended elementary and high school here and in Oakland. He was graduated from San Jose State College and received his master's degree from Stanford University. He started his teaching career in schools of the San Jose Unified District. He served as vice-principal of Lincoln High School, then as vice-principal and as acting principal at San Jose High School.

He came to Campbell High School in 1946 as principal and as superintendent of the school district. Civic leaders emphasize that Hill led the district through its most critical years of growth from 527 students in one high school in 1946 to 13,300 students in nine high schools in 1969.

In addition to his years of service as an educator, Hill has been active in youth activities, service club organizations, community, county and state affairs. He has been president of District 6, California High School Principals' Assn.; president, Santa Clara County Council, Boy Scouts of America; president, Campbell Kiwanis Club; chairman, Campbell Chapter of the American Red Cross; president, Campbell Chamber of Commerce; legislative chairman, 8th Congressional District, National Education Assn.; chairman, Sec. 7, California Assn. of School Administrators. He has also worked continuously with the California Legislature and the State Department of Education to improve the quality of education state-wide.



LAURANCE J. HILL

Persons interested in obtaining tickets to attend this dinner should mail a check for $6.00 for each reservation desired to John Dixon, P.O. Box 366, Campbell.

Checks should be made payable to the Laurance J. Hill Retirement Dinner Committee. For further information, call 378-3546.

City approves 40-unit complex for elderly under County Housing

Three councilmen on Monday night reversed their position of a month ago on housing and approved the renting of an entire 40-unit apartment to elderly tenants under the lease-supplement program of the County Housing Authority.

In the city's original agreement with the County Housing Authority, which directs the rent-supplement program, it was specified that only 25% of any unit could be under the program which is underwritten by federal funds.

On that basis, Mayor Bill Smeed and Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Ed Rogers, voted against the proposal of Jack Carnett, local builder, to rent the entire 40-unit complex to be located on San Tomas Road near Latimer to elderly citizens (above 62).

However when John Burns, director of the County Housing Authority explained that there were more than enough Campbell residents eligible to fill the 40-units and that the adjacent area would not be adversely affected, the three councilmen agreed to reconsider their actions.

Councilmen Homer Hyde and Dean Chamberlin, on the minority side the first time around, made it unanimous.

It was specified, also unanimously, that the action was not setting a precedent. Each case must stand on its own merits.

Don Kennedy to leave

Campbell loses civic leader by promotion

Two top level executive vacancies were created in two different civic organizations this week by the promotion of just one man.

Don Kennedy, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce and also president-elect of the Rotary Club, has been named assistant vice-president and assistant manager of the Menlo Park branch of the Bank of America. He has submitted his resignation from the two civic jobs and will assume his new bank position shortly. His successor at the local bank has not yet been announced.

Kennedy has been manager of the Campbell Ave. branch of the Bank of America since May, 1966. He was manager of the east Los Gatos branch of the BofA before coming to Campbell.

Kennedy, who resides with his family at 15811 Orange Blossom, Los Gatos, plans to commute to his new assignment at least for the time being.

The promotion of Kennedy has upset the "step-up" routine that is in effect in both the CofC and Rotary. It had been expected that Kennedy would take over the Rotary gavel in July of this year and assume the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce next January.

DON KENNEDY

He served as second vice-president of the CofC last year when Neal Royer, the current head of the Chamber, was first vice-president.

The executive committee and the directors are scheduled to name another vice-president shortly. Bob Bullard, a certified public accountant, is serving now as second vice-president.

Kennedy was slated to succeed Dr. Wallace Hall as president of the Rotary in July.

Editorial

Working together

We have long maintained that communication between city agencies and the citizens themselves is of prime importance in the operation of an efficient city government.

No city council or commission should operate in a vacuum and be aloof of the activities of citizen groups that are striving to make a better community in which to live and work.

We have long held that in Campbell the involvement of the citizens in civic activities is of extreme importance and that this involvement should be cultivated.

The council and the commissions, after all, represent the people.

It was because of this "involvement" that it was possible in 1967 to pass the civic improvement bonds which were of vital importance to the future of this community.

A citizens study group spent thousands of man-hours researching the needs of the community before recommending the bond issues that would go on the ballot.

And then the same citizens worked vigorously for the passage of the bonds.

That was involvement.

Another bond issue, stemming from the citizens again, has been recommended for the acquisition and development of park land. It will go to the electorate in June.

This again is the type of involvement that is necessary if our community is to go forward.

We hold that this type of citizen activity should be encouraged by all city agencies.

The goal of the citizens and the goal of the city commissions should be the same.

There is only one city involved.

The Planning Commission, for example, despite the fact that its members are appointed by the City Council to direct the planning phases of the city, should also be interested in citizen reaction and should encourage citizen involvement.

A civic improvement bond issue for park land acquisition and development is not the special province of the Parks and Recreation Commission, even if that body, logically, may have initiated the interest in it.

It is a city-wide undertaking. All agencies should have an equal interest in its success.

There are times, we admit, that this communication between one civic group and another may not be all that is desired.

One group could feel slighted because it was felt that it is sort of on the "outside" so to speak on the initial stages.

But that should not be.

We repeat there is just ONE city involved.

It is possible that the approach to a problem does not meet the approval of all concerned. But it is the goal and the objective that counts.

And, if the goal is to make a better community, that should be all that is necessary.

There should be no "we and theys" involved.

It should be only "we".

We hold that in a major civic issue as important as the pending park bond election, it is necessary to have the enthusiastic endorsement of all agencies of the city.

We hold also that the involvement of the citizens in such issues should be encouraged.

But commissioners and councilmen are citizens of the community in addition to being appointed or elective officials.

We sincerely believe that there can be better communication among all city agencies and also with the citizens themselves so that all are made aware of the objectives that have been outlined to make a better city.

But once the objectives have been agreed upon, there should be no dragging of the feet.

If we are sincere in our efforts to make a better community in which to live and work, we all must work together.

For our own peace of mind, we are happy that we don't live in that area.

That "peace of mind" bit would read "piece of mind", if we happened to discover that cars were parked in front of our house and there were plenty of spaces available in the Rincon Ave. lot which happens quite often.

Patience is a great virtue.

We are working on it.

A CHECK WAS RETURNED to the office this week from the bank after it had been deposited with the little message "refer to maker" on the memo attached, not an unusual occurrence to be sure, and hardly worth mentioning.

Except this particular check was signed by a banker and such checks don't generally bounce.

One really shouldn't call this one a rubber check.

We must quickly add that the reason the check was returned was because one signature was missing and not because of NSF.

Chamber of Commerce checks are good. Really. We know because we used to sign 'em.

But Len's scribble was missing from this one.

And Bob B's couldn't stand alone.

In another bank than his, that is.

We agree that it is not worth mentioning.

Except it is a good example of "checks and balances" in action.

Next question.

SOME OF YOU WITH the longer memories may recall that last issue we discussed in some length the question of keeping minutes of commission and city council meetings.

We mentioned that it has been ruled that minutes of such meetings need not be verbatim recordings, simply the clerk's record.

We added that unless "tapes" are made and filed of the entire proceedings, the minutes would not necessarily reflect everything that occurred, although the gals at the city hall do a great job in this department.

(We brought the matter up because for the first time almost there was no clerk at a recent planning commission meeting to record the minutes. Chairman Kel Young quite rightfully was a little disturbed about it.

Coincidentally we learned this week that a bill has been introduced in the state senate that could, if passed, possibly have some bearing on official board meetings in the future.

This bill (SB 495) would require that recordings be made of any meetings of city councils, boards of supervisors or planning commissions which may affect personal or property rights of any person.

THE BILL EXCLUDES executive sessions and privileged communications and provides that recordings are public records and must be kept for a minimum of 10 years and that a reasonable fee may be charged for making the public record available.

We have no idea if the bill has a chance to become a law. But, if it does, we imagine the legal beagles will have a field day interpreting actions of such bodies as to whether they "affect the personal or property rights of any person".

It seems to us that at EVERY planning commission or city council meeting something happens that "affects the personal or property rights" of someone.

TO THE FAMILY OF Jack Scott, who passed away last week, we extend our deepest sympathy. We knew him well.

Jack was bulwark of this city in the early years of its existence.

He served faithfully and efficiently as volunteer chief of this city's fledgling fire department when it was dependent, prior to 1958, on three paid firemen, plus volunteers.

JACK SCOTT will be remembered in our book not only for his service to his community but because he was a "pioneer" and an "old-timer" who had vision of what he wanted his community to be in the future.

AT CAMPBELL SCIENCE FAIR--Approximately 1,000 persons attended the 12th annual Campbell Union (elementary) School District Science Fair last Saturday at Castlemont School. About 235 science projects were presented by students of the fourth through eighth grades of the district's 19 schools. In addition, St. Lucy's School was represented at the fair.

The feature of the day was the awards assembly held in the cafetorium from 12:15 to 1 p.m. at which members of the board of trustees presented the winners in the various divisions. Winners were selected by a panel of 29 judges.

study session, involved experts in the field for estimates of minimum expenses.

The figure of $200,000 includes master planning costs and also basic improvements such as: (a) combination restroom; (b) maintenance and storage building; (c) grading, drainage and irrigation for turfed areas; (d) water, sewer and electrical utility lines to service park; (e) surfacing of parking and walkways; (f) tree planting and minimum landscaping; (g) turfing of open areas; (h) four tennis courts; (i) covered area for senior citizens.

Stephens estimates that the $625,000 bond issue would require a 12-cents per $100 assessed valuation tax rate hike. This would represent an annual increase on a $20,000 home of approximately $6.00 per year.

With the City Council giving the go ahead signal, it is expected that the citizens committee that has already been formed for the passage of the bonds will get into high gear.

Bill Podgorsek, of 860 Virginia Ave., and a member of the Parks and Recreation Commission, is chairman of the committee. Mrs. Dale (Sharon) Scott of 264 Radford Dr., is co-chairman.

The committee has had an organizational meeting and many of the sub-committees and their chairmen have already been selected.

Podgorsek and Mrs. Scott have appealed to local citizens interested in "saving the parks" to contact the committee. The temporary phone number is 378-2855 but the committee is now trying to locate a bond campaign headquarters in one of the shopping centers.

St. Lucy's confirms large class Sunday

A class of 74 boys and 72 girls and approximately 20 adults participated in the sacrament of Confirmation at St. Lucy's Catholic Church Sunday, March 23. The sacrament was administered by the Most Rev. William J. McDonald, Archdiocese from San Francisco.

The confirmation, which marks the acceptance of the 14 year olds into adulthood of the church, was the culmination of six weeks of classes. The class members were gowned in red for the boys and white for the girls, representing the Holy Spirit. Each child chooses a sponsor, other than their parent or godparents, and these adults, together with the parents and godparents, oversee the child's spiritual life and assure that he has proper supervision.

Communion classes are now being held at St. Lucy's and this will culminate in the child's first communion, which is one of the first steps in becoming a member of the Catholic church.

Campbell High Booster Club elects McLain

A kick-off meeting for the newly organized Interested Parents Club of Campbell High School was held recently and a general meeting is planned for Thursday, March 27 to be held in the music room at 8 p.m.

At this time projects for the coming year will be discussed and voted upon, according to Bill McLain, the president of the new organization which plans to back the Campbell High School activities in many different ways.

The club has already fixed the baseball dugouts and organized a work party to work on the baseball field.

Other officers of the organization include Ed Wood, vice-president in charge of fund raising; Bob Stewart, vice-president in charge of activities; Mrs. Frances Pigg, secretary and Jim Rogers, treasurer.

Other members present at the first meeting were Bud Whitmore, S.J. Rosenbund, Chuck Hawthorne, Jim Eckerman, Katie Ross and Robert Culp.

Rogers is now accepting membership dues of $10 per person for one year.

Service Club show launches spring season

Over 250 women attended the delightful spring luncheon and fashion show held last week in the First Methodist Church of Campbell Fellowship Hall, sponsored by the Women's Service Club of Campbell.

This active group of only 40 members, was also commemorating the club's fortieth anniversary, according to Mrs. George Van Sickle, who welcomed the group. Mrs. Van Sickle introduced Mrs. Helen Rice who has been an active member of the organization for 39 years.

The large hall was attractively decorated with papier mache' balloons attached to baskets overflowing with spring flowers set on colorful tablecloths in spring colors. Theme for the show, was "Up, Up and Away", and many favorable comments were heard on all sides as the spring social season was sucessfully launched by the showing of new fashions. The delicious luncheon included a casserole of chicken, and so many requests for the recipe were heard that The Campbell Press is printing it on this page.

Modeling the new spring fashions, which featured quite a few numbers in the new patriotic combinations of navy blue, red and white, were Mesdames Ruth Sindel, Barbara Miller, Nancy Harry, Yvonne Binley, Janice Hamilton, Iva Quinsland, Jeanne Allison, Sandra Tamm, Betty Greenby, Lorine Van Sickle, Debbie Hicks, Bernice Frye, Nancy McCain and Jerry Besack.

A lot of navy blue was predominate in the dressy clothes presented by the Town & Country Village, Inc. while the more informal clothes featured brightly splattered daiseys.

Mrs. Frank Richardson was general chairman for the delightful affair.

Here is the recipe for that surprisingly good hot chicken salad that was served at the Women's Service Club fashion show luncheon last week. Excellent for a crowd or a potluck take out, and best of all, it can be prepared ahead of time. Recipe from the kitchen of Mrs. Herbert Binley who was in charge of the menu.

HOT CHICKEN SALAD
(Recipe for 20 servings)

6 cups cooked, cubed chicken
3 cups bread crumbs
1½ cups grated sharp cheese
1 cup slivered almonds
6 cups sliced celery
3 tablespoons grated onions
6 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 small jar red pimentos, sliced
2½ cups mayonnaise.

Mix all together 24 hours before baking and store in refrigerator. Spread in large, shallow baking dish, and just before baking spread top with five ounces of broken potato chips. Cook for 45 minutes at 300 degrees. Let cool for one hour before serving.

Wedding vows exchanged

Mt. View is the new home for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Olson Beshore following their recent wedding ceremonies held in St. Lucy's Church.

The former Carol Ann Schirle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Schirle, 1968 Schrader Drive, wore an empire cut gown of peau de soie with a train. Her full-length veil was caught with a matching peau de soie headpiece, and her bouquet contained part of her grandmother's bouquet, with a centered orchid.

Turquoise was the color chosen by the bride for the gown worn by her matron of honor, Mrs. Marvin Moore. Her floor-length empire line gown was accented with miniature carnations with turquoise ribbons.

Bridesmaids included Mary Jo Crowley, a cousin of the bride, Janna Schirle, her sister and Ann Casazza, cousin of the bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by Msgr. George V. Schirle, a cousin of the bride's father.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Beshores. For his best man he chose Doug Park, and ushers included James Olson, Thomas Schirle and Mitch Cripps.

The bride is a graduate of St. Lucy's Elementary School, Camden High School and is presently undergoing management training.

Douglas was graduated from Blackford High School and is presently manager of a chicken restaurant.

A reception was held in St. Lucy's hall following the ceremony before the newly-weds left on their honeymoon trip to Carmel and Las Vegas.

EASTER VACATION

Easter plans are just beginning to shape up this week and only a few people have made definite plans for the coming week when the children will be out of school and college students will be coming home for their spring vacation.

The Nozer Haladwala's of 5485 Leigh Ave. are expecting guests from Southern California. Arriving for several days visit will be Ted and Susanne Metz, the god-parents of their son Mark who will be celebrating his first birthday April 10.

Here's to Health of Green Lawns

For centuries, the lawns of great estates were maintained by small armies of gardeners and flocks of ornamental sheep which kep the grass cut.

Today, modern industry provides the homeowner with a raft of machinery to help with lawn maintenance. There are tillers, edgers, rotary mowers, riding tractors, aerators and automatic underground sprinklers.

RIDING MOWERS ARE THE LATEST DEVICE to take work out of lawn care. Since 1966 more than half the money spent by consumers for power mowers went into the purchase of a rider or tractor. Pictured is Toro's 7-hp model.

But the problem still is the same — keeping the grass green and thick all through the summer months.

Good mowing and watering practices are the two basic requirements (along with fertilization, cultivation and insect control) for healthy green lawns, according to Dr. James Watson, director of agronomy for Toro Manufacturing Corporation

A basic relationship exists between mowing and watering since clipping limits the development of the root system, and a shallow root system materially affects the water requirements of grass.

Dr. Watson makes the following suggestions.

Cool season grasses should be cut at one to one-and-a-quarter inches during the spring to thicken the turf so that it can combat crabgrass more effectively. As warm weather sets in, the height-of-cut should be raised to one-and-a-half inches and maintained at this level for the remainder of the growing season.

Warm season grasses normally should be cut at heights ranging from three-quarters to one inch. Closer cutting during the spring will encourage lateral growth and turf intensity.

Frequency of mowing is extremely important for the development of a thick, healthy turf area. Grass should be cut often enough to insure that not more than one-quarter of the leaf surface is removed at a single mowing. The removal of more than a quarter inch of leaf can damage the plant and cause wilting and browning.

The homeowner should also make sure his power mower is in good working condition. Power mower blades should be kept sharp and properly adjusted. Dull mower blades produce shredded leaf tips which may turn brown in a few days.

What about good watering techniques? According to a recent survey, no area in the United States receives sufficient rainfall during the grass-growing season. The number of months that fail to deliver enough water to sustain satisfactory plant growth varies from three to four months in the northeast to over eight months in the more arid southwest.

Since supplemental watering of lawns is necessary in every part of the country, controlled watering is one of the most important considerations in the care and management of lawns.

Too much water applied too often can result in the development of shallow root systems and invasion by crabgrass and other pesky weeds.

Since soils differ in their ability to absorb moisture, water should be applied only as fast as the earth can take and hold it.

One way to conserve water and assure the right amount of moisture for a thick, healthy lawn, is through the installation of an automatically-controlled underground sprinkling system.

Laundry Room

Let's face it. Many a home just doesn't have space for a fully equipped, dream laundry. Of course, a laundry doesn't have to be big to be efficient, but time was when even the most compact laundry center required four to five feet of wall space.

Well, rules change, and such is the case with a compact laundry. Four to five feet of space is still needed, for a pair of full-size laundry appliances, but a well-organized, completely automatic laundry area is possible with less.

Three steps led to this super-compact laundry. It was planned by the Maytag Home Laundry center.

1. Removal of a closet yielded 42 inches of wall space.
2. A sink peninsula arrangement provided the convenience of a laundry close to the kitchen, yet separate from it.
3. A portable clothes dryer was wall-hung (over-lap fashion) over the peninsula and washer, with adequate clearance for the washer lid.

Such a laundry arrangement can work equally well in numerous locations about the home — wherever this modest amount of space can be found. One advantage of this particular location is that it reduces plumbing expenses because of its proximity to the kitchen sink.

Detergents, bleach and other laundry aids store in cupboard above the washer, with additional space available in the corner base cupboard of peninsula unit. There's room here also for any soiled items that may need to be held over for a special-type load at a later time.

And, a step away, a tall cupboard stores an iron, ironing board and supplies, caddy for prompt hanging of freshly dried permanent press clothes, plus a small hamper for items to be ironed.

IN JUST 42 inches of wall space, there's room for a complete, automatic laundry, because this portable dryer can be wall-hung. Porta-Dryer by Maytag.

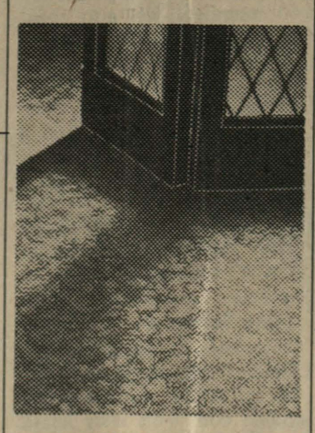
UTILITY CONTAINER

Plastic household utility container called "Tear, Tote and Toss," has been developed by Republic Molding Corp., Chicago. It has its own built-in supply of disposable polyethylene liner-bags and can be used as a hamper, diaper receptacle, or for wet and dry refuse in kitchen or family room.

PLANTING LILIES

Lilies usually thrive in soil with some acidity, and in locations that combine ample sunshine with protection from wind.

HOME NEWS and IDEAS



NOW CUSHIONED sheet vinyl flooring can be loose-laid in rooms up to 12 feet wide, for totally seamless floor surface. New flooring material is Armstrong's Castilian, shown in "Andrel" design.

To Families in Vacation Homes

Nearly three million American families now have a second home that ranges from a summer cabin in the mountains to a fully equipped year-round house for weekends.

A second home can be wonderfully relaxing, but every prospective home buyer should heed this reminder: Make sure a new home has an ample supply of safe running water.

Surveys show that the average family moving to the country wants to take along as many city comforts as possible. This includes plenty of running water for cooking, bathing, dishwashing and laundering.

The solution may be a private water system, consisting of a well, an electric pump, controls for turning the pump on and off and a storage tank.

Installation should be made by a water system specialist.

CLEANING AIR

Housekeeping ease, relief for allergy sufferers are among advantages claimed for electronic air cleaners, which remove pollen, dust, smoke and other airborne irritants. Honeywell Electronic Air Cleaners are available in portable and central system units for home or office.

FILTERING WATER

Attached to cold water line under kitchen sink, Aqua-Pure P50 home water filter takes unpleasant tastes, odors — of sulphur, chlorine and other substances — out of drinking water. Activated charcoal cartridge inside filter is changed twice a year.

Garden Can Raise Storage Problem

One thing a garden is sure to raise is a storage problem. The bigger and better the garden grows, the more equipment and supplies are needed for proper cultivation. The problem is where to store everything from lawn seed to lawn mowers so they will be safe and easily accessible.

A simple and efficient solution is to utilize wasted wall space in the garage. It can be turned into a convenient storage area by installing perforated hardboard panels on one or more of the walls.

Perforated hardboard panels fitted with hooks, brackets and heavy-duty hardware allow a variety of items to be stored on the wall. Wall storage is neat and convenient and keeps the garage floor clear for the car.

Hardboard panels are available in 4 by 8 feet sizes, or larger. Sturdy and durable, they will hold many times their own weight. They will not crack, check or splinter.

Perforated hardboards are easily installed on studs or furring strips with nails, screws or special waterproof cartridge-type adhesive. Allow a ¼-inch clearance between the panel and wall to permit clearance for hanger fixtures.

Perforated hardboards are available in woodgrain paneling, in a choice of colors or patterns, or ready-to-finish. They may be perforated top-to-bottom or down to wainscot height.

After garden wall storage has been organized, here are a couple of neat tricks to keep equipment in its proper place:

- With a marking pencil, outline the shapes of rakes, spades, mowers, etc., right on the panels. Then it is clear where each piece belongs.
- Establish a color code. Paint each panel a different color, and mark with matching paint the equipment to be stored on that particular panel.

Jack Scott, volunteer fire ex-chief dies

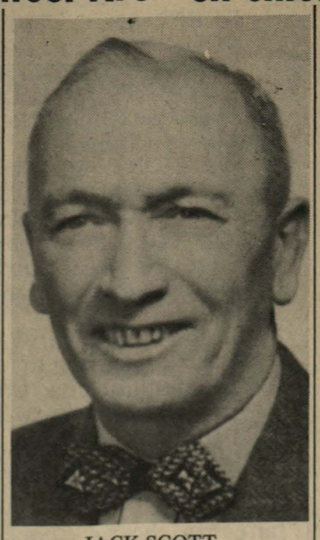
Funeral services were held Friday for John (Jack) Burnham Scott, who was a member of the volunteer Campbell Fire Department for 31 years. Scott, who was 70 at the time of his passing, had served as chief for 17 years until Nov. 1, 1958 when the fire department went from a volunteer to a paid status.

Scott had served on the volunteer department during the years that marked the growth of the fire protection department from Model T apparatus to the more modern GMC engines. The early fire fighters depended on their water supply to three large wooden tanks on N. Central Ave.

On his retirement from the volunteer department he was awarded a certificate of appreciation by Mayor John M. Chargin for his long service. The Campbell City Council later formalized the certificate by adopting it as a resolution.

Scott turned over the department to the present fire chief, George Maxwell, and 10 of the men who served with Scott are still members of the present force.

Scott was also employed by the Santa Clara County as a painter, having retired after 26 years as a paint foreman. He resided at 738 Ricky Ct.



JACK SCOTT

with his wife Myrtle, who passed away in June, 1966.

He was the son of Eugene B. Scott, an early day rancher, and Adalaide LaMontagne, a member of an area pioneer family.

Survivors are Mrs. Evelyn Adamson of Campbell and Mrs. Dorothy James of San Jose. He was the brother of L. M. Scott of Medford, Ore. and Mrs. Eudora Rodgers of Aptos and the grandfather of two. He had been in ill health for some time prior to his death.

He was a member of the Los Gatos Masonic Lodge, 292 F & AM, the County Employees Square and Compass Masonic Lodge, the Retired County Employees Association and the Campbell Historical Society.

The funeral services were conducted by the Los Gatos Lodge 292 F. & AM and Dr. Corwin Olds. Members of the Campbell fire department served as pall bearers for the fire fighter who had served his community so well. Services were under the auspices of the Campbell Memorial Chapel with final interment in the Oak Noll Memorial Park.

Zelmar places in tourney opener

Verdan Zelmar of Campbell placed third in the opening tournament of the 1969 Northern California Horseshoe Pitchers Association season. Zelmar won five and lost two with an average of 65.3 percent ringers in the San Jose opener held at Ryland Park, in Group 1.

The next tourney for Class AA pitchers 60% and up, will be at the Arroyo Viejo Park in Oakland, Sunday, March 30.

C of C president leads 'team' in special contest

A "president's team" composed of Neal Royer, president of the Chamber of Commerce Len Edholm, CofC manager, and Elaine Simon, office secretary, has challenged the "ambassadors" to a year-long membership contest.

The "ambassadors" is the membership committee of the CofC headed by Phil Baker. Last year the "ambassadors" under Al La Plante, brought in 102 new members, setting a new record. This year the goal for new members has been set for 125 by Baker.

On the committee with Baker are Bob Blonder, Jack Reilly, Ken Mantle, Al La Plante, Al Salciccia, Dan Knowles, Joe Clark, Tom State, Gene Borden, Dave MacLeod, Myron Alexander and Joe Cuffaro.

Thus far Royer's special team holds a 4-3 lead over the ambassadors. Another tally will be taken on April 10 and the final count will be made in December. The winning team will be treated to a steak luncheon by the losers.

New members joining the Chamber of Commerce since the first of the year include, Colonial Savings & Loan, Becker Foods; R. V. Gomez, accountant, Marquis Travel Service; Guild West and West Valley Times.

Home burglars strike again following lull

Residential and home burglars were busy again in the Campbell area, with the same pattern of entry through bedroom windows and the removal of cash and jewelry pointing up the possibility of the same gang working in the area.

Campbell residents are asked by John Morgan, Campbell Police Chief to call the police station if unusual activities are noted in the residential area. Only recently two burglars were caught in Campbell because an alert citizen called for help when persons were noticed acting suspiciously.

Lurene M. Neuby, 891 Jones Way was a victim last week when the burglar entered through a bedroom window while the residence was empty and $5 in cash removed after the dresser drawers were thoroughly ransacked.

Police are looking for a juvenile with a thwarted sense of humor after the Hamilton School was broken into. Ice cream and juice bars were strewn all over the cafeteria floor and left to melt; numerous bottles of coke were broken and added to the mess and on top of it all approximately 50 hot dogs were removed from the refrigerator and dumped into the goo.

Businesses suffering loss over the last weekend include the Unedas Pest Control, 783 E. Hamilton Ave. A chain saw valued at $225 was removed after a redwood plank forming part of the rear wall was pried off and entry made.

The Winchester Plumbing Co., 1217 Dell Ave., lost cigarettes taken from a smashed cigarette machine and a transistor radio after the mesh wire fence was scaled sometime during the weekend.

PERRY RHODES

Final services were held Monday for Perry M. Rhodes, 79, 1000 Hazelwood Ave., who passed away Friday in a Los Gatos hospital.

A retired building contractor, he had lived in Campbell for the last 22 years. He was a native of Maryland.

Rhodes is survived by his widow, Annette; two stepchildren, Charles Swanson and Peter Swanson, both of Michigan, three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He also leaves a brother, Herbert Rhodes of Michigan, and two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Davis of Michigan and Mrs. Dana Lockhart of West Virginia.

Services were from the Campbell Memorial Chapel with inurnment in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

The City Council of City of Campbell does ordain as follows:

SECTION ONE: That Section 6300 of Chapter 3, Article VI entitled Business and Professions of the Campbell Municipal Code, be, and the same is hereby amended by the deletion therefrom of subdivision 2. of said section, relative to nude and semi-nude entertainment.

Camden Chatter

By Diane Carman

Eleven music students represented Camden at the annual Solo Ensemble Festival held Saturday, March 15 at San Jose State College. Participating students were Dale Clifton, Lucy Dick, Pat Hart, Jeanette Lamy, Lori Nelson, Paula Poletti, Anna Tucker and Diane Vasques.

Students were graded not only on their musical ability but on their poise, expression and feeling. When a student presents an excellent performance they are given a command performance in which they repeat the number for a large audience.

The Sveden House will be the location for the annual CSF and Honor Society banquet to be held on April 9 at 6:30 p.m. Only 300 tickets will be available for the all-you-can-eat gathering. Adult tickets are $2.00 and students will be charged 50¢.

Straight A'ers and CSF seal bearers will be given recognition in the form of plaques and certificates.

Seniors Lesley Payne and Bill Streeper were Camden's participants in the 10th annual Central Coast Mathematics Contest, held Saturday, March 22. During the hour-long contest, Lesley and Bill competed against high school seniors from the Central Coast area for shares of $675 in U.S. Savings Bonds provided by San Jose Mercury and News.

The Santa Clara County Joint Council on Science and Mathematics Education and newspapers co-sponsored the contest.

Del Mar Dateline

By Molly Ford and Janice Hallyburton

"A Midsummer Night's Dream", Del Mar's all-school play, was presented last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Different from all previous Del Mar plays, it had special lighting, filming and musical techniques, which made a unique production. Mark Goodman, Rob Ingram, and Dave Goldman did the filming shown. Dave Cohen did the lighting and alumnus Dave Larson composed the music.

Twelve Del Mar seniors have been honored in the annual Bank of America Achievement Awards program. Three students were awarded plaques for their outstanding achievements in a general field of study, and will have the opportunity of competing with top students from other schools for cash awards ranging up to $1,000. These three students are: Tom Belick, science and math; David Pearl, fine arts and Andy Resnick, liberal arts.

Nine other students awarded certificates for superior performance in specific fields of study include: Paul Hoque, math; Curt Sawyer, lab science; Kristie Ann Surber, English; Artha Landreth, foreign language; Darlene Souza, drama; Kathy Silva, art; Karen Nagahara, home economics and Curt Sawyer, music.

The Dons' Varsity Baseball team won its first West Valley Athletic League game Saturday by defeating Campbell 4-1. Fred Miller pitched a three-hitter while contributing two hits. Jim Cox, Tim Kerr, and John Allen also contributed much to the Dons' victory.

Jackie Kalvelage, who recently won first place in a regional judging of the "Ability Counts" writing contest, was awarded fourth place in the statewide judging.

Arrangements are now being made for the presentation of her prizes, a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and a special certificate signed for the President by the Chairman of the President's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped.

The "Ability Counts" contest was sponsored by the Governor's Committee.

Eight Del Mar students won monetary awards in the ninth annual "Education of A.B.C.'s of American Industry Contest". These students included: Debbie Goddard, Eileen Gurrola, Tini Kraft, Sue Mannina, Marilyn Miser and Mary Speiser in Business English; and Dave Pearl and Andy Resnick in English IV. In addition to the individual awards, the school received a cash prize, awarded for the quality of the entries.

Campbell Corners

By Barbara Handel

The all-school paper drive scheduled for last Saturday has been cancelled until April 12. This gives the four classes a bit more time to collect papers to help their class win.

Cheerleader and Song Girl applications are available in room 35. Any girl or boy may apply. The main requirements are that you have no more than 12 absences, 10 truant tardies and at least a "c" grade average. There will be a meeting on April 10 of all prospective candidates at 2:30 in room 34.

This is the last week to suggest a name or insignia for the parent sponsored boosters club. Anyone having ideas should turn them in to room 35 by 2:30 Friday.

The all-school musical to be presented this year is Guys and Dolls. A date for try outs is being set.

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Senior Margie Pack. Margie will next go on to State competition and then possibly National competition.

The Junior Journalism class is getting ready to put out the Junior Edition of the school newspaper, The Campus Echo. This will help them decide if they want to go on to the fourth year and be in the class to put out the paper every time.

Last Friday, Senior parents received a letter stating when and where the All-Night Graduation Party will be held. The party will be held at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley from 10:30 p.m. until 5 a.m. the next morning. Many different activities are being planned for the evening. A buffet supper is planned at midnight. This will be the last time the class will be getting together as a whole.

Today the Senior Panorama picture was taken. The cost of the picture is $1.60. Also today, was Senior Dress Up Day. All seniors dressed up in their better clothes to be different from the rest of the classes.

Tomorrow the Varsity Baseball team, the tennis team and the frosh/soph baseball team will compete against Blackford at 3 p.m. Victories are hoped from all three teams.

On Friday, the swim team will try their luck against Blackford at Campbell at 3:30. Also, the golf team will challenge Branham's team at La Rinconada at 3 p.m.

Boy Scouts clear weeds from around trees on creek bank

GETTING THE LOWDOWN--Robert Judd, (left) one of the adults who assisted members of Boy Scout Troop 375 in the work party on Los Gatos Creek last Saturday, gets advice from Henry Parker, of the city park staff. In the center is Frank Klein, Jr.

A group of Boy Scouts and their dads last Saturday did a collective good turn for the entire community.

Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 375, sponsored by Rosemary Home and School Club, descended on the Los Gatos Creek bank last Saturday and cleared weeds from the tree wells of 300 trees.

The trees were planted by community organizations and individuals during the past three years and, although thriving, the heavy rains this year had caused an extra heavy growth of weeds also.

Members of the work party of Troop 375 composed of 14 boys and four dads (including Planning Commissioner Frank Klein) started their project at 9 a.m. Patrick McCue is scoutmaster of the troop.

After they had completed the job they collected Good Will baskets from all over town, another one of their civic projects.

Two years ago members of Troop 375 participated in the planting of the same trees.

The troop volunteered to do a conservation job and requested the Campbell Beautification Committee, headed by Mrs. Jeanette Watson, for an assignment.

The committee suggested clearing the tree wells and the boys enthusiastically moved in.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

With the change in Administration, Congress has been marking time to give President Nixon a chance to formulate his own legislative program. As a result the House has occupied itself with the consideration of bills which are not exactly of earthshaking import. For example, on March 18, Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) asked the House to create a commission which would recommend National Observances and Holidays.

Chairman Celler said his committee had 88 bills before it to designate National "Days", "Weeks", or observances like Spring Garden Planting Week, Ski Week, Powder Puff Derby Day, National Clown Week, National Better Recordkeeping Week, Gladiolus Month, Firemen's Day, Electric Car Day, Coin Week, Credit Week, Coal Week, Choir Recognition, Bible Translation Week, Armenian Martyrs Day, Arthritis Week, Asthma Day and American Indian Day.

In speaking against the bill, H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) said, "Mr. Speaker, this proposed commission is another chapter in the seemingly endless effort to pass the buck and establish somebody else in a position where he or she can feed at the Public trough.

Gross then produced a 218 page Library of Congress compilation of the advisory boards, committees, commissions, councils and task forces created since 1965.

"Have you ever heard of the vital services performed by the Advisory Commission on Parcel Distribution Services?", Gross asked. "It had five distinguished members, but it never did a thing. How about the Advisory Committee on Federal Buildings in the National Capital Region and the Advisory Council on Quality Teacher Preparation which filed no reports?

"The National Advisory Commission on Libraries was established in 1966 and was required to submit a report no later than 1 year after its first meeting. Two years later nobody had been able to find one....The National Advisory Committee on International Studies was created in 1966 but 2 years later no members had been named....The National Commission on Product Safety was authorized in 1967 but had neither staff or office as of last June....The National Medical Review Committee was established in 1965, but never had any members....The President's Advisory Council on Cost Reduction was established in 1967, but quite obviously never did anything.... The President's Committee on Libraries--which should not be confused with the Advisory Committee on Library Research and Training Projects, or the National Advisory Committee on Libraries--had not submitted its report.

"There are many, many other boards, commissions, committees and task forces lying around," Gross continued,"...for example, the International Committee on International Athletics, the Advisory Committee on the Arts, the Tortugas Shrimp Commission, the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission, the International Pacific Halibut Commission, the International Boundary Commission, and the California Debris Commission. Now we have this proposed Commission on National Observances and Holidays."

Gross was apparently effective because the bill was defeated by a vote of 212 nays to 164 yeas. I voted no!

Campbell seeks entries for official flower contest

Mirror mirror on the wall, what is the most beautiful flower of all? Or to paraphase an old story—what is the most appropriate flower of all to be named the official flower of Campbell?

The Campbell Committee for Beautification is seeking an appropriate flower to be designated as the official flower of Campbell. This flower will then be used on letterheads, decorations, special plantings and for official occasions.

The flower should be one that is associated with California, easy to grow, free from insects or pest problems, adaptable to all areas, suitable for flower arrangements, can be used in any size yard with a long period of bloom and be relatively inexpensive and easy to propagate.

Representatives of the board of directors for the Campbell Citizens for Beautification will select the winning recommendation and the person submitting the winner will be officially recognized.

Contest forms may be obtained from the Campbell City Hall or the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. Phone 378-8141 or 378-6252.

Other contests being planned by the Citizens for Beautification include an identification symbol or "logo", which will be used to represent Campbell in many ways. A flag design is also being discussed and a Civic and Home Improvement contest will be sponsored again in the fall. Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman for the Beautification committee urged businesses and others interested in entering the improvement contest to start keeping records now.

The "Operation Eyesore" or the anti-litter campaign has currently bogged down to the lack of enough available trucks. Anyone willing to donate his truck for an afternoon in order to clean up the city is urged to call the Campbell City Hall.

Deadline for the Official City Flower contest is April 7, and contest forms should be mailed to the Campbell Citizens for Beautification, 75 N. Central Ave., Campbell.

50 judges to take part in county Science Fair

A distinguished panel of 50 judges, composed of physicians, artists, writers, scientists, administrators and teachers, will choose top winners from hundreds of entries in the Santa Clara Valley Science Fair, to be open to the public next Saturday, March 29.

The ninth annual Science Fair will be held at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, and judging will take place Wednesday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Richard Schonert, Cupertino High School science teacher, is chairman of judges. Judges of project exhibits are Michael E. Tauber and Robert I. Sammonds, American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Ames Research Center, NASA; Dr. G.J. Goble, Dr. Bruce G. Wrenn and Don Peterson, Lockheed Missiles & Space; Dr. Joseph D. Mandell, University of Santa Clara.

Judges will be briefed, divided into teams, and then given the rest of the afternoon to do the job, according to the criteria in their judging sheets and booklets.

Winning entries will be posted immediately upon conclusion of the judging, Everett H. Layne, president of the board of directors, announced. "This new procedure will give the several thousand students who will view the Science Fair on Thursday and Friday, an opportunity to to compare their choices with those of the professionals in the field. Each student is given his own judging sheet to take back to class and evaluate."

Richard Castronovo is executive secretary in charge of the Fair, which is an affiliate of the International Science Fair.

It is a non-profit corporation organized by civic leaders and educators in Santa Clara Valley to encourage creative thinking and scientific interest in students from grades six through 12, in all private, public and parochial schools.

50 year old Campbell Ave. store plans to sell for 5th time

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Goldman, proprietors of The Golden Rule Department Store, 394 E. Campbell Ave., are presently in the process of a store wide sale in connection with their announcement that the store itself is for sale.

Goldman, who is one of the largest retail outlets for Levi's in the area, has carried a large line of dry goods in the store which he purchased in 1960 from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anello. Since that time he has expanded the stock and reputation until he has buyers coming from as far away as Salinas and Martinez to buy from him.

Goldman admits to being 78 years old and also admits to having already retired from active businesses three times, but always gets "itchy feet" and finds new outlets for his energy. He and his wife Betty, who rides to work on a bicycle, reside at 223 N. Second St. Goldman formerly owned a retail business in Palo Alto, a wholesale business in San Francisco and before that was in business in Petaluma.

When asked what he planned on doing when he retired this time, he quite frankly said "Nothing–it's time to rest".

However he refuses to sell the store, which has been a part of the Campbell business district for 50 years, to someone who is not well qualified to run the store as it should be run.

The Golden Rule Department Store was founded in the early 1920's by Alfred T. Davey, who came to Campbell from Galt and Soulsbyville and started the store in what used to be the old IOOF hall on Campbell Ave. on the present location of the new IOOF hall.

He was the one who named the store. Several years after it was established Davey moved to the present location, according to his niece, Mrs. Veva Chamberlin who used to help out clerking during the summer time.

Davey sold in 1939 to Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Rhea, and Mrs. Zelia Rhea continued to operate the store after her husband passed away until 1957. Mrs. Rhea still resides at 201 N. Second St. and remembers many of her former customers who shopped in the store during the 18½ years she owned the establishment.

The Rhea's sold to the Anello's in 1957 and after three years they sold to the Goldman's, who describe the store as "the sweetest little business going".

The store has carried a wide line of men, women and childrens clothing as well as yardage and sewing materials.

SOLO FLIGHT

Marine Second Lieutenant William O. Steinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Steinberg of 389 N. Esther Ave., Campbell, and husband of the former Miss Jennifer L. Wakefield, has made his first solo flight.

He made the flight in a T-2A "Buckeye" jet trainer while undergoing basic jet flight instruction at Training Squadron Seven, Naval Air Station, Meridian, Miss.

DEAR FRIENDS:

As your New York Life representative in this community for the past 10 years, I would like to share with you my pride and pleasure in receiving the following memo from the San Jose General Office of New York Life:

"WHAT A TREMENDOUS YEAR FOR KEN MANTLE. THE SAN JOSE GENERAL OFFICE SALUTES YOU, KEN, ON A MOST OUTSTANDING PRODUCTION."

It was only because of the wonderful support of this community that this record was achieved, as leader in "paid case rate balanced production".

This means that in 1968 I led the area in the number of paid cases of life, health and group insurance programs. As a result, this record earned for me my ninth National Quality Award.

This certificate award is presented each year to those men and women whose superior record of life insurance service to the public qualifies them as leaders in their chosen field.

Looking forward to serving in an even better capacity in the future ---

Sincerely,

J. Kenneth Mantle
